Glasgow Chinese School Rules and Regulations

At Glasgow Chinese School we aim to teach the Chinese language, both written and spoken, but our aims reach further than that: to teach our pupils integrity and to promote good manner, good conduct and respect. The school has drawn up the rules which should be observed by all staff and pupils to protect the best interests of all members of the school.

General rules:

1. Pupils must be dressed respectably and arrive at school on time. If a pupil misses' class, a letter explaining their absence must be signed by the parents and presented to the office staff.
2. Pupils must always be courteous and well-behaved.
3. Pupils must respect their teachers and follow all given instructions.
4. Pupils will work hard and hand in their assignments on time.
5. Pupils will observe good order in the classroom and keep the classrooms clean and tidy. They must not litter or graffiti the desks and walls.
6. Pupils will be friendly, considerate and helpful towards one another.
7. Cheating in tests and examinations is not acceptable.
8. Pupils should not wear expensive jewellery or bring expensive mobile phones or games consoles into school. If valuables are lost or stolen, Glasgow Chinese School will not be held responsible.

Class Discipline:

1. Pupils must observe the rules in the classroom; they must be quiet and attentive; they will not be disruptive or leave their places; they must not write on boards or leave the room or go into another class without permission.
2. Pupils must bring their textbooks, class jotter and writing materials to class.
3. Pupils must not enter rooms that are reserved for special purposes without permission from a member of staff, such as the laboratories, computer rooms, music rooms etc.
4. Pupils do not have permission to use computers or any other equipment in the classrooms. If there is any damage inflicted as a result, parents will be responsible for compensation.
5. Pupil must not play with mobile phone or game consoles in the classrooms. If he/she is asked to put it away and does not do so, the teacher is authorized to confiscate it until the end of the class. If the pupil does not follow instructions, he/she will be referred to the Disciplinary Officer or the Head teacher for further action. If necessary, parents will be contacted by the school. Pupils may be asked to sign an agreement of their complying to good behaviour. If this agreement is not kept, parents will be asked to remove the child from the school.

Awards:

Excellence will be commended, either verbally or with the award of a certificate:

Pupils may be awarded for hard work and completion of assignments; for diligence and punctuality; for admirable conduct (helpfulness towards other children, handing in lost items, reporting bad behaviour etc.)

Punishments:

1. Punishments will be dealt by the school only when deemed necessary, with the intention of helping the pupil to understand why behaviour was unacceptable and how amends can be made.
2. If pupils break a school rule, light offences will be handled with warnings, detention or other forms of discipline such as to serving public services, while more serious offences may result in suspension or expulsion.

The Chinese School will take the final decision in any dispute
